McGee denounced the war and urged workmen to go to the trenches, said the witness. By President Wilson and the war of England had any grievance against the Kaiser they ought to fight themselves and not ask others to fight their battles.

Just then several soldiers came along and when they saw McGee they rushed at him and he was taken to the station and held in the cell.

Richard Brittain, deputy sheriff, and Anton Ferrar, a member of the I.W.W., told of the incident. McGee was taken to the station and held in the cell.

Twenty-eight Reach Atlantic City After Forty Hours in Small Craft.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), June 4.—Twenty-eight survivors of the New York and Porto Rico liner Carolina, which was sunk by a German submarine, Sunday evening, were recovering in hotels and at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club here tonight after forty hours in the battered boat from which they landed this afternoon.

The women were suffering from exhaustion and some of them being unable to stand when lifted from the boat, and all had suffered from hunger and thirst as they had only a little water and few biscuits during the time they were at sea.

The exhausted passengers were lifted bodily from the boat and carried to an emergency hospital on the sands.

WEAR SAULERS' CLOTHES.
Some of the women were attired in rough blue overalls and jumpers borrowed from the crew. The hair streaked across their faces was plastered down by the mixture of salt and water used in an effort to relieve them when they landed.

One woman fainted as a life guard lifted her from the yawl and ran to the tent with her. At that moment, the notes of the "Star Spangled Banner" floated into the tent and the woman, half rising on her cot, cried hysterically "We're safe."

Sea Devilry.
The tanker Herbert I. Pratt, sunk yesterday by a submarine, was hauled out of the bar on which she settled yesterday and was towed to the Delaware breakwater stern first, arriving tonight. Her crew went aboard the vessel and it is said an attempt will be made to take her to Philadelphia. Most of her cargo is still intact.

CLYDE LINER HURON DODGES THE DIVERS.

Santa Monica Vigilance Corps will not Buy It.

Anti-Disloyalty Body Makes Resolution Public.

Riverside Council Hits Hard at Propagandists.

The Executive Committee of the Santa Monica Vigilance Corps yesterday made public a motion passed unanimously at a meeting of the corps on May 27 to the effect that no member of the organization should buy the Los Angeles Examiner. The brief announcement given out, a copy of which was sent to all local and beach newspapers, including the Examiner, reads as follows:

"At the meeting May 27 a motion was made as follows: 'That it be the sense of this organization that no member buy the Los Angeles Examiner.' This motion was seconded, and after discussion, was passed unanimously. (Signed) 'C. C. DORAN, Secretary.'

Mr. Doran stated that, as the Vigilance Corps is a secret organization, with its members bound by oath not to divulge its activities, it was not until after the motion was passed that the members were notified of the decision. He stated that the decision was made to make the resolution public today, as the best means of accomplishing what the resolution aimed to do.

The Santa Monica vigilance organization has a membership of 275, including the most prominent and substantial business men of the community, many of them with sons in the service. The purpose is to stamp out disloyalty of all kinds in the community.

RIVERSIDE COUNCIL ACTS. Following a discussion in which William Randolph Hearst, the Hearst Publications and the Los Angeles Examiner were mentioned, the City Council of Riverside yesterday adopted, without a dissenting vote, a resolution urging the board of public library trustees to "exclude all papers which are opposed to the policy of the government and are in the habit of spreading German propaganda."

The resolution was introduced by the board of public library trustees on the floor of the Council. The resolution was introduced by the board of public library trustees on the floor of the Council. The resolution was introduced by the board of public library trustees on the floor of the Council.

Four Bits a Head to See Her Wed.

Miss Goldie Schneider, Who will turn her wedding into a Red Cross benefit.

Charging Admission.

HER WEDDING WILL BE A RED CROSS BENEFIT.

EVERYTHING now is made to help win the war but, in turning her wedding into a Red Cross benefit, inviting a thousand guests and charging them 50 cents admission apiece to see her united in matrimony to the man of her choice, Miss Goldie Schneider may be said to have struck a new note in patriotism.

The marriage will take place in the cathedral room at Kramer's assembly hall on the evening of June 25 and will be followed by a grand military Red Cross ball. The sixty girls in Red Cross uniforms with the sixty men of the army and navy will form a line and guard, through which the bride party will pass to the altar.

Taking part in the wedding will be 150 persons, including the men and women in uniform. There are to be four little flower girls and boys—each 4 years old. One of the little girls will be in full dress and a little girl with him dressed as a bride. They will enact a mock wedding at the altar, the two sets with them acting as their attendants.

Miss Schneider is the daughter of Mrs. Emily L. Schneider of No. 1442 Cassill place, Hollywood, who announced the engagement of her daughter and Mr. Fessenden at a large reception and musicale on Monday evening. Mr. Fessenden is the son of a retired Philadelphia merchant and is a graduate of Bucknell University. He is a relative of Gen. Samuel W. Fessenden. Miss Schneider is a pupil of the Emerson School of Expression of Boston and has lent her talents to numerous Red Cross benefits.

The announcement party was given in a hall of pink and white carnations and American beauty roses massed with ferns. A programme was given by Mrs. Paul Heyerichs, Miss Ella Elrich, Mrs. Bernice Marcher, Murray and others.

To make this military Red Cross wedding a benefit for the Red Cross fund, the bride and groom have decided to make the wedding a Red Cross benefit. The bride and groom have decided to make the wedding a Red Cross benefit. The bride and groom have decided to make the wedding a Red Cross benefit.

Family of Dead Man Appeals to the Authorities.

Money Said to be in Hands of Local Woman.

Letters of Administration on Estate Sought.

Relatives of Robert Bielby, a North Dakotan, whose death occurred here December 27, 1917, yesterday asked Dist. Atty. Woolson to investigate circumstances surrounding the unusual case. The case is being handled by Capt. J. D. Hunter, chief of county investigators.

Mr. Bielby came here December 14, seriously ill. Two days later, according to information in the hands of Capt. Hunter, Mr. Bielby entered into a verbal agreement with a Los Angeles woman to the end that she was to take care of him during the remainder of his life, funds in travelers' checks being indorsed over to her as compensation for her attention as a nurse. Mr. Bielby died five days later.

At the request of members of the Bielby family, application has been made to the Public Administrator for letters of administration on the estate of the deceased.

MARIE DRESSLER ILL. Breakdown in Result of Strenuous Liberty Loan Work—Dent Pro-German Throat.

Marie Dressler, comedienne and motion-picture star, is suffering from a severe attack of grippe at her home, No. 289 South Rampart boulevard. This became known yesterday, following reports that the well-known actress had had a breakdown following the receipt of threatening letters from pro-Germans.

Dr. Arthur F. Goetz and H. Gordon Bayless, who are attending her, not only denied yesterday that Miss Dressler has received threatening letters, but stated that her condition is the result of nervous exhaustion as the outcome of her strenuous participation in the third Liberty Loan drive, in which she assisted Mrs. E. R. Brainerd of this city. During the campaign she traveled more than 10,000 miles to stimulate the sale of Liberty Bonds.

CALLED "BUM" SUES. For calling her "a little bum" and also stating that the man she was engaged to "throw her over when he learned what a bum she was," Mildred Reardon sued Louise Wolner yesterday for slander, asking $10,000 damages. It is a general rule that a woman who is called a "bum" can sue for slander. The complaint that Mildred worked in the Folies.

TRIP EAST DEFENDS ON ALIMONY PAYMENT. Mrs. Vera Redhouse, who pleaded guilty in Superior Judge Willis's court to shoplifting with a deadly weapon, on a complaint that she took a pot-shot at her divorced husband, William Redhouse, former operator of a line of sight-seeing cars, will be sent to Brooklyn, N. Y., to serve her term in the penitentiary. The judge, in his decision, provided the ex-husband satisfies the alimony claim against her. Judge Willis suspended all proceedings under the deadly-weapon charge until it can be determined whether or not the husband can make the alimony payments.

NORTH ISLAND FLYERS KILLED.

Instructor and Cadet Victims When Plane Crashes—Another Machine.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN DIEGO, June 4.—Civilian Instructor Stanley Coyia, 37 years old, of Condesport, Pa., and Flying Cadet Elwyn Chapman, 26, of Brookline, Mass., were killed today when the airplane in which they were flying crashed another machine about 200 feet above Rockwell Field, North Island, and fell in a spinning nose dive to the ground.

Both machines were nearing the landing place when the accident occurred. Coyia's airplane crashed to earth, while the other, driven by a lieutenant, managed to glide safely. Chapman suffered fractures of both legs, his left arm and his jaw. He was taken to the hospital here. For several hours he died early this evening.

SHE'LL GO TO WAR, TOO. Film Star, Wife of Jack Pickford, Says She'll Follow Him Over to France.

Olive Thomas, Triangle film star, wife of Jack Pickford, who is now a member of the United States Army aviation service, declared yesterday that she is going to France when her husband goes if there is any way to get there—and she believes there is. "How am I going?" she said. "Well, if you mean the transportation, those old submarines don't frighten me a bit. If you mean what am I going to do when I get there, why I'll be a nurse. I'm studying Red Cross nursing. Perhaps nursing is not particularly in my line, but there's the Over There. I'm a member of the Red Cross nursing committee, which hundreds of actors and actresses are preparing to join—to the front and help the boys with their songs and plays, and I may apply for work in that division. Anyway I'm going if I can when Jack goes."

TRIP EAST DEFENDS ON ALIMONY PAYMENT. Mrs. Vera Redhouse, who pleaded guilty in Superior Judge Willis's court to shoplifting with a deadly weapon, on a complaint that she took a pot-shot at her divorced husband, William Redhouse, former operator of a line of sight-seeing cars, will be sent to Brooklyn, N. Y., to serve her term in the penitentiary. The judge, in his decision, provided the ex-husband satisfies the alimony claim against her. Judge Willis suspended all proceedings under the deadly-weapon charge until it can be determined whether or not the husband can make the alimony payments.

WAR IS IMPORTANT, NOT UNIONS, ASSERTS SHOUP.

Whip Germany.

"I BELIEVE that during the war all questions pertaining to organization were laid aside; that we are united to whip Germany, I do not believe there is a person here who is not burning with patriotism," declared Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric Railway, in an address to some 1500 employees of the company gathered at his request last evening in the Pacific Club, No. 429 South Hill street, to hear his official views on the subject of their unionizing.

"This raise of wages is for all of us," he stated, "and awaits only the action of the Railroad Commission. It is a question of your getting something you ought to have, although living conditions here in California are 50 per cent better than anywhere else in the country."

With the increased cost of operation, said Mr. Shoup, the Pacific Electric needs $60,000 a month more to keep up with existing conditions.

WASH BERRIES BEFORE USING.

Food Administrator Issues Caution to Public.

Bug Poison and Artificial Coloring Found.

Save-Wheat Ruling is Made More Extensive.

Louis M. Cole, City Food Administrator, yesterday cautioned the public against eating strawberries which have not been washed. Several reports were made to him last week of people made ill by eating berries, and he put investigators on the case.

Yesterday he made known the findings of the investigation. "Some local berry raisers placed Paris green and other bug exterminators on their plants after the blossoms had matured," he said. "The reports that certain berry growers were using artificial coloring is also true to a certain extent. Danger from these poisons can be averted if anyone will wash the berries before eating."

The assembling of excess wheat flour in Southern California is practically completed, according to W. T. Bishop, in charge of this work for Southern California. It is believed that it will total over 1,000,000 pounds.

The total amount of wheat flour assembled is not as much as was first expected, Mr. Cole said yesterday. "In all probability, the major portion of this excess flour will go to France on the mercy ship which sails from Los Angeles."

One of the most drastic rules yet promulgated by the Federal Food Administration in regard to the use of wheat flour in public eating-houses was received yesterday at the local Food Administration office. This rule prohibits the consumption of cakes, pastries, breads, breakfast foods or similar foods containing wheat flour on Mondays and Wednesdays and every evening meal between 5 p.m. and midnight.

Victory bread and rolls are divided into two classes. First, plain Victory bread and rolls; second, "quick breads" which are defined as mixtures of flour, yeast, soda, baking powder, etc., and similar products.

Married Two; Both are in the Navy.

Laura G. M. Consigny (center); her sister and a friend. It was the statement of the sister, Mrs. Ruth Richardson (right) that led to Mrs. Consigny's enforced court appearance after she had said she was "not at home."

Legal Hide-and-Seek.

SUMMONED, DECLINES, FACES BIGAMY CHARGE.

AURA G. EMORY CONSIGNY, 22, who married James Emory when she was 17 years of age, and became the wife of Reginald O. Consigny at 19, made an enforced appearance in Judge Wood's court yesterday to answer Mr. Consigny's annulment suit, and later found herself a possible defendant in a bigamy proceeding.

Mrs. Consigny's enforced court appearance followed a subpoena server's report that when he called at her home a girl had told him that the family had moved. As Judge Wood wanted to hear what Mrs. Consigny had to say about her alleged illegal marriage to Mr. Consigny, and as her sister, Mrs. Ruth Richardson, was sure she was at home, a bench warrant was issued, and at 2 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Strong had the young wife in court.

She admitted she had told the officer in the morning that Mrs. Consigny was not at home, adding: "I did not think it was necessary to come to court. Mr. Consigny told me some time ago that everything was settled." She admitted there had been no court proceedings, and that she did not know whether or not Mr. Emory is living.

"Your failure to tell the truth holds you open to punishment," the court admonished her. "I will ask you again whether your husband is living."

"I don't know. I saw him the last time in Los Angeles three years ago. I told Mr. Consigny I had been married before; I did not tell him I had been divorced. I was told that Mr. Emory had been married before, but Mr. Consigny said that I was free to marry him. Mr. Consigny's grandfather, I was told, had received a letter from San Diego saying that Mrs. Emory was suing for divorce."

"This young woman has committed bigamy," said Judge Wood, after granting Mr. Consigny a decree nisi. "I see no reason why I should not turn the matter over to the District Attorney."

"I did not know I was doing wrong at the time," said Mrs. Consigny. "The matter is referred to the District Attorney for investigation," ordered the court, to determine what action he might take.

Both Mr. Consigny and Mr. Emory are in the navy.

WOMEN'S LAND ARMY TO SEND TWO MORE UNITS.
TWO more units of the Woman's Land Army of America will be sent out tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, according to Mrs. Orpha Eastman, chairman for organization in Southern California. The Arden dairy at El Monte will take eighteen women, personally chosen from the recruits registered at the land army office by P. P. O'Connor, general manager of the dairy. The second unit will go to the Crescent dairy.

The Arden dairy will furnish transportation by truck and the women will be housed in a two-story house on the grounds. They will be paid at an average of $65 a month to start, and those who can handle the same amount of work as men in the same positions will be paid men's wages.

The group of women going to the Crescent dairy will be given a bungalow of their own, according to Mr. Carver, the manager. They will board at the adjoining bungalow, in charge of a man and wife who will cook for them. Mrs. Eastman says that a number of other dairies are

OUTLINE WAR STAMP DRIVE.

Eight Hundred Women Meet to Plan Campaign.

Savings Society to be Formed in Every Precinct.

City is Million Behind in its Allotment.

Eight hundred women assembled yesterday afternoon in the ballroom of the Alexandria Hotel to receive instructions in the organization of every precinct in the city into war savings societies.

Mortice H. Flint, chairman of the Southern California War Savings organization, spoke and was followed by John T. McBean.

During his address, Chairman Flint said that Los Angeles was more than $1,000,000 behind in its war savings quota and that the allotment expected during the coming War Stamp drive, which begins next Tuesday, June 11, will be $25 per capita.

John T. McBean, local chairman of the Los Angeles War Savings Society, held an open question meeting which lasted an hour.

Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman of the Women's City Council of Defense, presided at the meeting and asked that in every precinct, headquarters be made in a private residence instead of a public office, as it is believed this will mean a larger interest taken in the drive in the different communities.

In elaborating on the instructions Mr. McBean said: "Ten or more people can form a war savings society. They may meet in a factory, school, church, clubhouse or the home of a member. The officers of the society are a president, secretary, captain and as many lieutenants as are needed. Meetings should be held the first Monday in every month and the societies are permanent. Reports of the meetings should be sent to the State director of war savings every month."

"In recognition of the spirit of patriotism the government will bestow upon members of war savings societies badges designating degrees of membership. Members who have made special effort to secure new members will be given further recognition by a distinctive badge bearing the design of the torch of Liberty and the words 'War Savings Service,' and stars to denote the degree of membership."

"One star indicates that the member has secured ten members, two stars thirty members, three stars fifty members, four stars 100 members and five stars 200 members."

"There will be a mass meeting next Monday evening in Shrine Auditorium of all captains and lieutenants in the different precincts for final instructions."

SOLEMN SERVICE FOR DEAD KEARNY SOLDIER.
BUGLE PLAYS "TAPS" AND GUNS ROAR SALUTE AS MAN IS BURIED.

Funeral services for Private William B. Castillo, member of the One Hundred and Forty-third Field Artillery, who was fatally injured last Saturday morning at Exposition Park, were held yesterday afternoon at the Breeze Bros. chapel.

As the six pallbearers, Privates Steven G. Gaffney, Charles W. Rees, William Williams and Lester plus the casket containing the remains of their former comrade on a gun caisson, proceeded to the Breeze Bros. chapel, the strains of "Nearer My God, to Thee" played by the instrumental band and the roar of street cars and passing autos.

The military funeral service was presided by Chaplain Fred Thompson, after which the funeral cortege, consisting of members of Battery F, one mounted and one unmounted section and many autos containing the friends of the dead soldier, proceeded to Rosedale Cemetery, where the last military rites were given, the blowing of "taps" and three salutes from a field piece.

After camping at Universal Ranch the regiment will again proceed on their long hike back to the national encampment at Lake Vista on Thursday, pursuant to orders received from Maj.-Gen. Strong yesterday.

NAB TWENTY MEN IN ROUND-UP OF IDLERS.
WORK OR GO TO JAIL, POLICE JUDGE TELLS MAN ARRESTED.

Twenty men, ranging in age from 21 to 35, were arrested by the police yesterday as a part of the crusade against willful idleness in Los Angeles.

Most of the men were taken into custody at the Municipal Employment Bureau on Franklin street, where their actions caught the attention of the attendants. They were arrested by Patrolman Vaughn and booked at the Central Station on the charge of being vagrants.

Every man that could not show a good cause for not working was given a sentence of seventy-five days in the City Jail. Later these sentences were suspended on the condition that the men find some sort of employment or take the work offered by the employment bureau. Several of the prisoners were taken before Judge Cheever, who told them there was no excuse in these days for not working, and that it was essential that every man should work and do his share in helping to win the war.

Some of the most fruitful sources of litigation and loss to Estates have been:

Wills not carefully planned to provide for future contingencies, as well as for present conditions.

"Home-made" Wills, not rightly planned, drawn or executed.

"Death-bed" Wills necessarily drawn hastily, and frequently made while the testator was not in a condition to correctly plan or think.

IN HIGHNESS.
An Indiana man had his name changed by the court to King. He still leans toward royalty, but he at least has the Anglicized form of it. All he has to be afraid of is an "ace."

IF A MAN DOESN'T BUY COAL THIS WEEK
he is a slacker, and if he is a slacker why shouldn't he be put off with slacked coal?
Any way you put it it is a bit difficult for a Southern California household to get wrought up over the agitation for laying in an early coal supply.

THE YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA WILL WIN
this war as they won the War of the Rebellion. The nation was saved in '45 by the patriotic prowess of two millions of boys.
They responded to the calls of the President of the United States and went forth from their happy homes singing the current song, "We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand strong."

A SOFT-HEARTED HUN?
It is said that the commander of the submarine that sank the ships off the Atlantic coast was "unusually humane for a German officer," giving the crews an opportunity to escape. Maybe he anticipated being captured by Americans and did not like to think of the consequences of murdering the crews, or perhaps he had other motives for his conduct; but that he was humane, simply out of kindness, is hard to believe.
In any case it will go hard with this officer if the Kaiser ever hears that he actually blew up an American ship and failed to kill every passenger on board.

WAS SOL A SLACKER?
While trying to separate two valuable dogs that had foolishly decided to tear each other to pieces a local sculptor was bitten on the hand by one of the infuriated animals. Solomon said that "he that passeth by and meddeth with strife that belongeth not to him is like one that taketh a dog by the ears," but it may be that Solomon, being a great logician and capable of making proverbial sayings, was a little less than a dog in the matter of interference. Had a way of making his conscience and remaining neutral when right and duty demanded a definite stand for principle and a personal sacrifice for the good of others.

FOOD AND FOOD HOES.
Suburbanites in Los Angeles have joined into organizations to do a purpose of raising pigs. Pork is a most valuable war food, and though pig raising should be encouraged in every way, there yet remains some things undone to properly discourage the food hog. With conservation being cried out on all sides, still remain extravagant dinners, fancy dishes, and reports from many cities about half-eaten chickens, legs of lamb two-thirds gone, and much state bread are thrown into the garbage. So what does it profit that suburbanites and others give their time and attention to producing more food if the heedless and foolish within our midst continue to waste it?
Excellent allies for Germany are such wastrels.

THE MARCH OF INVENTION.
The farmers of California imported Australian beetles to eat up the potato bugs, and Philippine sequestrated wasps to eat up the beetles, and China sparrows to eat up the wasps, and East Indian ferrets to eat up the sparrows. A pretty problem is to get rid of the ferrets. It is proposed to lure them to the seashore and invite Frank Henry to address them. This will cause them to take to the water with a view of swimming back to India. One of the most useful inventions of the day for getting rid of flies and mosquitoes is the electrical sucking machine. Fasten a tube to a bulb, turn on the current and in five minutes there will not be a winged insect in the room.

There have been great improvements in stock breeding. The guaytactus mules with two long legs on one side and two short legs on the other side have solved the problem of plowing steep side hills. Condensed food tablets enable one to carry a dinner of seven courses in a pill box, with no dishes to wash and no waiters to tip. Education has been simplified. And the time may come when we will place one end of the wire in the arithmetic and the other end in the student's ear and turn the crank and make a mathematician of him in an hour. The electrical calculator may yet prove a great convenience in the future schools. They will save time and wear and tear, for all the teacher will have to do is to press a button and the boy is spanked.

Compare our times with old times and reflect upon how much we have gained.
Julius Caesar had no auto. When he wanted a salt water bath he was lugged to the Mediterranean in a springless chariot. Mary Queen of Scots had no electricity, no gas, no steam heat. Henry VIII had no photograph of his wives. Cicero had his teeth pulled without the use of chloroform. And no king before Edward VII had his appendix removed.

Put no limit to the size of the army.
There is no danger whatever that a military force greater than is needed will be called into being. Instant action is supreme, and the President is expected to act quickly with the supreme power that has been placed in his hands.

WANTED—A VOICE.

California is suffering more severely than any other American State from the blight of bureaucratic government. While its million-odd producers are bearing burden and cheerfully their part of the financial burden of the war they are growing restive under the yoke of a paternalistic and wasteful State administration that is taxing them more heavily than any other State is taxed and out of all proportion to benefits received. Freedom from unjust taxation, pernicious regulation and autocratic administration are the great issue in California.
Labor and industry are crushed alike by the economic oppression of State and local political machines.

The general readjustment of social and economic conditions, necessary to place the country on a fighting basis, has laid bare the frightful waste of these duplicating and interlarding commissions. Every month a blood tribute of $5,000,000 is paid by the people of California to conscienceless State and local politicians. They are fattening on the sacrifices and travail of the producing classes, demanding their portion of flesh before the soldiers in the trenches are armed and fed. California's population is growing rapidly, but the ratio of increase in the cost of State and local government has been three times as great as the increase in population. In 1910 the total cost of State, county and municipal government was $100,000,000.
The estimated cost for the present fiscal year is more than $200,000,000. The State government has tripled the number of commissions and doubled the State expense; and bills passed by the last Legislature—a war Legislature by the way—added more than $3,000,000 annually to the cost of State government, already the highest in the United States.

If State, county and municipal budgets were reduced in conformity with the economies practiced in forming the budget of the average patriotic family there would be a clear saving of $100,000,000 a year. When one reflects on the service those extra hundred million dollars could render if applied to winning the war, one wonders if a candidate for Governor will not come forward to flay denounce the commissions and to point the way to the average citizen to rid himself of so oppressive a burden. The oppressed producers and taxpayers are scanning the political horizon for the first view of a gubernatorial candidate who will resolutely sound the keynote of the campaign by pledging himself to rid the State of the incumbent commissions and some of the Dist. Atty. Woolwine has described in his platform addresses the menace of growing State officialdom; he is beginning to foresee the bureaucratic alms-house towards which we are drifting. But Mr. Woolwine is a Democrat and The Times is not sure of him.
Moreover, The Times refuses to believe,
despite all the Liesners and the Howells, that the Republican party has grown a venal or so subject that no champion can be found within its ranks to relieve the people of their yoke and to clean the Augean stables of State politics. Mr. J. O. Hayes, the San Jose publisher, paid his respects to the forty fat commissions in a recent address to the City Club, which was very terse. The prospect is growing more and more ominous. The prospect is growing more and more ominous.

Germany's vaunted military machine is beginning to rattle. The famous "Death's Head" division of the Prussian Guards has been mauled so badly by the French and American forces, holding the heights of Villers-Cotterets, that the remnants have been withdrawn from the firing line. The whole division is hors de combat. The advance on Paris is definitely checked and the second great drive of the year has reduced itself to local struggles for tactical positions along the plateau of the Ourcq and the Aisne.

Meanwhile, the fleet of super-submarines,
which was dispatched under the ocean to terrorize the Atlantic ports and block the famous "road to France" followed by Allied transports, has been dispersed. Its destruction was limited to sailing boats and unarmed coasting vessels. Not a single loaded transport was reached. No trans-Atlantic provision or ammunition ship was touched.
In fact, the German submarine fleet made a sorry exhibition of itself. It gives rise to the suspicion that the submarine crews
have been so cowed by the mosquito fleet which convoys loaded transports that they are afraid to attack. To travel 3000 miles for the purpose of sinking a few unimportant sailing boats, when the "road to France" is lined with Allied transports and fighting vessels, is a doubtful strategical maneuver.

The appearance of the submarine fleet off
the Atlantic Coast is evidence that the Junkers are beginning to worry about that food of men and provisions that America is pouring into France. Two big drives that were to bring France to its knees before American troops should be available have miscarried. The prospect is growing more and more ominous. The prospect is growing
more and more ominous.

A Go-Getter.

Germany's vaunted military machine is beginning to rattle. The famous "Death's Head" division of the Prussian Guards has been mauled so badly by the French and American forces, holding the heights of Villers-Cotterets, that the remnants have been withdrawn from the firing line. The whole division is hors de combat. The advance
on Paris is definitely checked and the second great drive of the year has reduced
itself to local struggles for tactical positions along the plateau of the Ourcq and the Aisne.

Meanwhile, the fleet of super-submarines,
which was dispatched under the ocean to terrorize the Atlantic ports and block the
famous "road to France" followed by Allied transports, has been dispersed. Its destruction was limited to sailing boats and unarmed coasting vessels. Not a single loaded transport was reached. No trans-Atlantic provision or ammunition ship was touched.
In fact, the German submarine fleet made a sorry exhibition of itself. It gives rise to the suspicion that the submarine crews
have been so cowed by the mosquito fleet
which convoys loaded transports that they are afraid to attack. To travel 3000 miles
for the purpose of sinking a few unimpor-
tant sailing boats, when the "road to France"
is lined with Allied transports and
fighting vessels, is a doubtful strategical
maneuver.

The appearance of the submarine fleet off
the Atlantic Coast is evidence that the Junkers are beginning to worry about that
food of men and provisions that America is pouring into France. Two big drives that were to bring France to its knees before American troops should be available have miscarried. The prospect is growing more

LIFE UNDER THE BOLSHIEVKS.

Degradation of the Russian People.

BY G. H. MEWES.

The staff photographer for a London journal, who has been in Russia for four years, left Petrograd a month ago.

I have just arrived in England from Petrograd, where I have been, almost continuously, since 1914.

I watched the first stages of "sacred unity" for the war. I assisted at early campaigns of partial triumph or defeat for Russia.

I saw the Czarism overthrown and the beginning of confusion.

Then I had five months of Bolshevism. As a result, I seem to have lived a century. To come out of Russia into England today is to emerge at a bound from the Middle Ages to modern times.

People talk of the French Revolution and compare it with the Russian. But Russia is not (as France was) a highly-civilized state, reversed by doctrinaire notions of human betterment and the rights of man. It is a huge formless mass, which was held together only by authority, and the symbols of authority, in church and state. The symbols have gone. The mass relapses into chaos.

The revolutionaries overthrew the first symbol of power—the Czar. They are now hard at work trying to overthrow the other—the church.

Each Bolshevik writes atheist on his permit or passport. In Petrograd they have pulled down the great figure of Christ and put up a Spirit of Freedom—just as Robespierre, indeed, installed a prostitute in Notre Dame and instituted a Feast of Reason for the republic.

The French people at heart were shocked. But they did nothing. It may be that the Russian is at heart shocked. But he can do nothing.
He submits. He submits because it is the reign of freedom. Freedom is a person with a red cap.

Freedom has transformed ordinary life in Petrograd something in this way.

It is a day towards the end of March, 1918, and I am looking from my window into the square below.
I see a little group of soldiers—revolutionary soldiers—stopping the passers-by. I imagine they are examining their documents.

But the first passer-by is removing his overcoat. The second is sitting on the pavement while a soldier gently but firmly removes his boots. A lady comes round the corner in a fur coat. She is quickly relieved of it. One man in a temper throws all he has in his pockets out on the snow. There is a scramble among the soldiers.

It is 8 o'clock, and as I have only just got up I may be dreaming. For corroboration I go to some friends—British officers—staying in the house. They join me and we see the "hold-up" in progress. Suddenly a private soldier steps forward and takes to his heels. This is the reign of freedom.

In order to boil eggs hygienically is necessary to "Keep the fires burning."

What happens to the bacon and eggs these fine summer mornings versenk.

Why is it necessary for an army of pretty girls to wear George's uniform during business hours?

Wonder if the swivel-chair soldier's duty in Washington was one of their roller-top desks?

If the American and Hun must be judged, there ain't going to be much judging the first day.

It will soon be as unpopular to hold a government bond as to be in church in a bathing suit.

There will be no objection to a put the poolroom ladies to work for the good of the nation.

Now is the time to plan your war charities. There will be opportunity to do good in Los Angeles.

It has been figured out that some ranchers of Southern California are more automobile than tubists.

Make room for another land war ranch. We must have land to grow enough to meet all domestic war times.

They are beginning to eat a meat in Kansas and other States. Can you figure out how much pie crust that meat?

It must be a hard job to march and religious work while bugles are blowing so loud.

The beautiful cathedral at Amiens does not appeal to the bloodhounds. To the Prussian bloodhounds are far more inspiring than the cathedral.

However, don't laugh; Mousie can be called on to supply the 1000 men necessary to win the war. He has joined the Congress of the United States.

Senator Xenophon P. W. has not had the temerity to make a motion to adjourn with that front name ought to be into the public eye.

Gen. Foch desires any information as to the strategy of the war. There is a barber shop at Third Street where an army supply can be had.

The I.W.W. on trial in Chicago made the mistake of the 100 men in picking Judge Kenyon to pick up a cravat. They found him a Tartar.

It is very pleasant to hear a musical singer or performer on a musical instrument, but just what the neighbors were practicing!

That is needed to win this war. The woman power, the woman power and the girl power are American nation. And they are given by a patriotic people.

The last quarter of an hour of the big battle on the western front. The commander who led the best and best drilled men, and to respond to the final call of the veterans.

Seventeen million American bonds in the third issue. There were nine million second and five millions in the first. More and more people are giving their money to the war.

In the Crimean war the city of Sevastopol stood a siege of 250 days, yet the other day the German applied it without even the slightest chance. But in 1914 the city was a fighting force and a rallying point for their country.

Get out your smoked glass. The eclipse of the sun is everybody ready at 2:10 p.m. There will be no postponement on account of the weather. If you have a must wait until September 1, for another sight in Boston.

All Divisions of the Market Open with Material Gains, Mostly Held.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Evidently the exploits of enemy submarines along the Atlantic coast wall did not enter seriously into Wall street's calculations today. Far more interest was manifested in the bulletin telling of the assistance rendered by American troops in checking the German drive at the Marne.

All divisions of the stock market opened at material gains, these being considerably enhanced during the active forenoon. Shipings, including shares of coastwise companies, participated in the advance, which ranged from 2 to 5 points among leaders.

Reactions occurred on the reduced strength of the midwestern party as a result of the French official report.

Reversals were moderate, however, and collected only a few speculative favorites, specialties attaining higher levels than before.

United States Steel's early rise of 3 1/2 points, at which it crossed par for a comfortable margin on heavy purchases, was a material factor in the strength of affiliated issues, notably Bethlehem, Crucible and Lackawanna steel, Colorado Fuel, Republic Iron and Virginia Iron, which rose 2 to 3 points.

NEW ELECTION PLAN FOR CITY.

Two Amendments will go on November Ballot.

One Divides Municipality in Fifteen Districts.

Proportional Representation the Other Scheme.

Two election amendments will be placed upon the ballot at the November election as the result of action taken yesterday by the City Council's Committee of the Whole. One provides for a division of the city into fifteen districts, a Councilman to be elected from each, and the other is the radical proportional representation scheme, fostered by the Municipal League.

The City Attorney was instructed to prepare the amendments and report them to the Council at the earliest possible date. The dimensions of districts will be determined by the Council later. Those behind the proportional

CITY TREASURY IN GOOD SHAPE.

Balance at End of May Million More than at Close of April.

There was a balance of $3,287,866 in the city treasury on May 31, last, according to a report filed with the Council yesterday by City Treasurer Powell. The amount shows a total increase of more than $1,000,000 over April. During May the receipts aggregated $2,341,662, while the disbursements were $1,321,483.

Representation plan yesterday said they will not object to dividing the city into three sections and the election of three Councilmen from each section. This modification meets the approval of D. M. Gandier of the "dry" forces, who said his organization will oppose any plan which calls for the election of more than nine Councilmen.

Councilman Griswell is the only strong advocate in the Council of the proportional representation scheme. President Farmer objected strenuously to it, but finally decided that it may not be a miscarriage of justice to let the people decide the question.

PLAN SUMMER SCHOOL WORK.

Vacation Sessions Will Open on July First.

Diminished Budget Curtails Scope of Activities.

War Theme will Predominate in Courses Offered.

Contingent upon the money which it is now estimated will be available from tax returns, the summer schools of Los Angeles will be opened beginning July 1. The plans outlined by Dr. Albert Shiele, superintendent of schools, indicate that war work will have precedence over all other lines of activity, even though the funds are somewhat limited.

Every activity is to be selected with particular reference to productive work, with the exception that sufficient opportunity for academic study will be afforded such pupils as wish to make up work in which they have failed or who wish to make more advanced credits. Dr. Shiele stated yesterday that seventeen public schools will be utilized.

for summer work, in addition to the Juvenile Hall, East Side Jail and the Anahadul Parental School. The health department of the city schools will inaugurate home visits and individual instruction in sanitation and hygiene and will provide classes for young girls in nursing and the care of children. Classes in first aid for the general public will also be organized it was announced.

The institutions at which summer school will be held are as follows: Polytechnic High, Central Intermediate and High, McKinley-avenue Intermediate, Loretto-street, Macy-street, Castelar-street, Vine-street, Grand-avenue, Fremont-avenue, Thirty-sixth-street, Fifty-first-street, Fifth-street, San Pedro; Varnon-avenue, Staunton-avenue, Ninth-street, First-street and Bridge-street. Both day and evening classes will be conducted at Polytechnic High and the McKinley-avenue intermediate schools.

Provisions will be made for the classes in Americanization of foreigners that have been unusually successful. It is estimated that in this branch of summer school work instruction will be given to a minimum of 600 adult foreigners. The figures now available indicate that $42,500 will be spent for the maintenance of the summer schools, of which $22,000 is to be devoted to elementary schools. The high schools will receive $22,500 as their apportionment.

To the Public. "I just want to say that we keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand all the time, and find it excellent for bowel trouble," writes Mrs. H. P. Cook, Anderson, Ind.—Advertisement.

BUNCO GANGS AGAIN ACTIVE.

Man of Eighty-four Marked Down as Victim.

Detectives Take a Hand and Arrests Follow.

Same "Charity Game" Costs Another Dearly.

An old bunco game with a new wrinkle was uncovered by the police yesterday, with the result that two men are in the city jail and a third one is being sought by detectives. The new feature of the age-old swindle is that it was unsuccessful, thus saving John Gaechter, 84 years old, his entire worldly fortune.

Adolph Gals and D. Caponigro are the two suspects held by the police. Jack Ross, said by the police, to be a notorious bunco artist in the third man identified by the attempted victim as one of the men who were engineering the plans for separating Gaechter from his money. According to the story told to Captain of Detectives, the men, Detective Sergeant Boyd and Oakes, Gaechter met two pleasant strangers in a rooming house at Third and Broadway streets. The men, who were dressed in civilian clothes, took him into their confidence, stating that one of them had a large fortune and did not know what to do with it.

PAT FOR EXPERIENCE. "I'm an ignorant man, even if I have thousands of dollars. You are a man of ripe years and experience. I'll pay you $1000 for your advice and place my money in your hands," one of the men told Gaechter, he related.

Then the game began to unfold. The old man over, and at the right moment, Detective Boyd and Oakes, to whom, in the meantime, Gaechter had conveyed his suspicions, took a hand in the deal and transferred the negotiations to the Central Station. There the two men were locked up on a charge of being bunco men. The police say the prisoners are known to them. In the identification bureau Gaechter wanted the picture of Jack Ross as one of the men who were trying to swindle him.

Adolph Gals, police say, was positively identified as the man who was doing the planning for the suspected swindle. The other prisoner also was connected with the case, the officers say.

The same game cost Giuseppe G. Paolo, of No. 407 North Los Angeles street $425, according to his report to the detectives yesterday.

WOMAN TURNS BANDIT.

Asks Man to Help Her and Then Robs Him of Money at Point of Gun.

A woman in distress on Wall street between Fifth and Sixth provided grief for Walden Brannock of No. 540 1/2 South Spring street late last night. The distracted one requested $100 from the witness, threatening him with a revolver, according to the victim's report to the police. Brannock told the police that he saw the woman stumble and nearly fall and caught her. She requested him to escort her behind a near-by billboard that she might sit down and rest, and Mr. Brannock did. Arriving behind Mrs. Idell Kennedy, the young woman produced a revolver of small but glistening proportions and demanded his money, which Mr. Brannock produced.

FOR SELLING WHISKY. Marice Lombardo, proprietor of a family liquor store at No. 160 North Main street, was cited yesterday to appear before the Police Commission next Tuesday and answer a charge of violating the Gander ordinance. He is alleged to have sold whisky by the drink and bottle.

The Summery White Sale of June

—Is here, bringing with it scores and scores of such dainty, butterfly garments for the bride-to-be. For of course she is the most important person this month. Soft and shimmering crepes and satin, delicately trimmed with laces and touches of embroidery, lacey garments of nainsook, those that are really individual and such exquisitely embroidered underthings from the Philippines.

—Nor has her sister been forgotten, she who loves the dainty things, yet must have those which will withstand many trips to the laundry. These she will find in abundance. Surely a most interesting day might be spent shopping for just these things. —Mothers will also be delighted to find a sale of undergarments for the little folks.
